BFA Acting Auditions for Class Beginning in the Fall of 2019

Auditions for current high school students wishing to be considered for acceptance into the BFA in Acting program at UNCG entering the fall of 2019 will take place on these dates:

- November 9, 2018 (Friday)
- February 15, 2019 (Friday)
- February 22, 2019 (Friday)

Join us for a day on campus. The day will include:
- A group meeting (including time for questions) with all those auditioning, the head of the School of Theatre, the BFA Acting coordinators, representatives from the financial aid and housing offices, and current BFA Acting students.
- A master class to let you see some of the work we are doing.
- Individual auditions. 2 contrasting monologues totaling no more than 3 minutes total (total time for both monologues) followed by a short interview*.
- Stay for a UNCG show at 7:30pm (complimentary tickets for you and your family provided).

*The audition/interview is the only thing you are required to attend. We hope you can make it to all the different opportunities on your audition day. The auditions will be in ten minute slots so there won’t be time for discussion during this short period.

For more information, or to schedule your audition, email Christine Morris & Michael Flannery at bfaact@uncg.edu.

Acting Alums include:

Christine Morris
Associate Professor
Co-coordinator, BFA in Acting Program
Email: bfaact@uncg.edu, or camorri4@uncg.edu

Michael Flannery
Associate Professor
Co-coordinator, BFA in Acting Program
Email: bfaact@uncg.edu, or flannery@uncg.edu